Navigating a New Paradigm in Fixed Income & Credit

Please join our Global Co-Heads of Corporate Credit, Joe Moroney and John Zito, in Los Angeles on November 8th as Apollo examines the evolution of fixed income and credit markets.

The interactive breakfast will feature commentary on opportunities and concerns across the liquidity spectrum within credit and review the various approaches that institutional investors must take when structuring their allocations to meet their risk, return and liquidity targets in today's environment.

Joe and John will discuss positioning across our credit platform, and how Apollo plans to source value with an eye to 2020.

We hope to see you there.
